

This aerial map displays a residential neighborhood with yellow property boundaries and red parcel numbers. A large, irregularly shaped parcel in the center is highlighted with a red dashed border. The map includes several roads: Glen Meadow Lane at the top, Mancini Crescent on the left, 19th Avenue at the bottom, and Bayview Avenue on the right. A large pond is visible on the right side of the map. The red dashed border outlines a parcel that is mostly undeveloped, with some trees and a small structure visible. The surrounding areas are densely packed with residential lots, many of which have houses and driveways. The red numbers on the parcels range from 1 to 159, with some parcels having multiple numbers. The red dashed border follows the perimeter of the central parcel, starting from the top right, going south, then west, and finally north to close the loop.
